The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-6, 8-16 and 18-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Diamond (6,123,977) in view of Food Ingredient News for reasons of record.

Applicant argues that there is no suggestion in the references to combine them. This has been considered but is not persuasive. Food Ingredient News clearly teaches the advantages of their powdered lecithin over liquid lecithin in the first paragraph of the article. Applicant argues that the references do not provide for heating the oil to dissolve the powdered lecithin. This argument has been considered but is not persuasive. If one of ordinary skill in the art wanted to prepare a mixture containing edible oil, it would be obvious to heat it in order to make sure that all of the ingredients are melted for mixing. Also if one of ordinary skill in the art wanted to add a powder to oil, it would have been obvious to heat the oil to reduce the time required for the powder to dissolve in the mixture. It is appreciated that the mixing temperature is not mentioned but the applied temperature of the claims amounts to warming the oil. Such warming is not alone seen to constitute unobviousness.

Claims 7 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Diamond in view of Food Ingredient News as applied to claims 1-6, 8-16 and 18-22 above, and further in view of Crosby for reasons of record.

Applicants' arguments are directed to the independent claim and so no additional arguments need to be addressed.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
